

Gorilla Logic Proves Once Again, No Amount of Distraction Stops a True Gorilla

Authorities Fail to Slow Gorilla's by Feeding Them Pop-Tarts.

Broomfield, CO – September 3rd, 2009 – Gorilla Logic, the firm known for delivering enterprise application development resources with a 10X productivity and quality benefit, today applauded three gorilla's in St. Paul, Minnesota's Como Zoo for demonstrating the power and reliability of gorilla's in general by ignoring the distraction of a local police officer's alleged attempt to feed them Pop-Tarts.

“We applaud Schroeder, Gordy and Tango for demonstrating what we have asserted all along, true Gorillas are capable of overcoming any challenge without missing a beat and stay focused on the tasks at hand,” said Stu Stern, CEO, Gorilla Logic. “For years we have provided “gorilla” developers to Fortune 500 companies around the globe and consistently delivered impressive results while managing risk on mobile device application development, Adobe Flex and Java projects without losing site of the business drivers or being distracted by unimportant developments..”

Gorilla Logic specializes in providing industry leading development experts to a wide range of clients focused on ensuring the highest level of quality and performance in their enterprise applications while at the same time managing risk and development costs. Able to deliver expertise in mobile device application development, Adobe Flex, Java, Agile methodologies; Gorilla Logic offers complete enterprise development solutions.

“While we understand there are always unexpected occurrences or variables in any project, our teams are experienced with succeeding no matter what they face,” said Chad Sanderson, VP, Sales & Marketing, Gorilla Logic. “These three gorillas are a shining example of how gorillas are capable of quickly identifying what is important from what is not. We wish these three nothing but the best.”
